

Europe Day 2006

The challenges of becoming more prominent within the European framework as well as a proposal for revitalizing culture were presented and discussed at Café Roland in Bratislava. Prior to the discussion Slovak writers shared their views on the current status quo of Slovak culture.

From left: Ján Figel, European Commissioner for Education, Training, Culture, and Multilingualism, Pál Csáky, Deputy Prime Minister of the Slovak Republic, Rudolf Chmel, Minister of Culture of the Slovak Republic

Café d'Europe

From left: H.E. Judith Macgregor, the British Ambassador, Patrik Zoltvány, Partner and Head of AJG European Office, AJG European Consulting s.r.o., Martina Sudová, Administrator, Committee on Civil Liberties, Justice and Home Affairs, European Parliament, Bill Martin, Deputy Commissioner General, European Commission

From left: Ján Figel, European Commissioner for Education, Training, Culture, and Multilingualism, Pál Csáky, Deputy Prime Minister of the Slovak Republic

Patrik Zoltvány, Partner and Head of AJG European Office, AJG European Consulting s.r.o., Martina Sud'ová, Administrator, Committee on Civil Liberties, Justice and Home Affairs, European Parliament

H.E. Jacques Faure, Ambassador of France

H.E. Martin Bolldorf, Ambassador of Austria

Rudolf Chmel, Minister of Culture of the Slovak Republic

H.E. Michal Kováč, Former President of the Slovak Republic with wife Emília

From left: Eva Hrebenárová, Translator, Austrian Cultural Forum, Thomas Brandhuber, Head of the Office, Austrian Cultural Forum in Bratislava, Suzanne Ranetski, Cultural Attaché of Austria, Lubo Dobrovoda, Writer, Magda Vášáryová, State Secretary of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the Slovak Republic, Mag. Marian Wrba, M.A.I.S. Envoy, Embassy of Austria