

Fipra Slovakia – Public Policy & Regulatory Advisory

Fipra Slovakia is part of Fipra – Foresight International Policy & Regulatory Advisers which is Europe's leading and most extensive public affairs consultancy network, advising clients on a range of government relations and regulatory policy issues. Since it was founded, Fipra has expanded across the globe and now operates in over 50 countries internationally. In Europe, we are the only consultancy with top level public affairs advisers not only in Brussels, but throughout the Member States of the European Union.

In addition, we have experienced public affairs advisers in a number of European Economic Area countries and EU candidate countries, as well as many of the EU's neighboring countries. We are known both for the seniority and expertise of our staff and for getting results. The portfolio of services of the company includes the wide spectrum of activities – from helping the set-up of a government relations strategy from scratch, risk assessment and risk management projects, regulatory reviews, and advice on how to manage specific issues of importance to the firm through building coalitions.

Many of our staff and Special Advisers have personal experience of having served in national governments, parliaments and regulatory bodies, or have held senior positions in industry, trade associations, or consumer organisations. They are all experts in political and regulatory processes, not least because they have experienced them from many different perspectives at first hand.

In the Visegrad Group countries (PL – HU – CZ – SK) the Slovak team is actively engaged also within CEC Government Relations.
